ENFORCING THE LAW AGAIN. The signature was by proxy.

rested Upon Warrant. The first case under the Edmunds Utah act, since its provisions were sustained by the court of appeals, was brought to the attention of the police court rester-day, and a warrant issued for the two defendants. Phillip Mills, a colored preacher, said to to be paster of Mount Airy Baptist Church, and Mrs. Elgabeth Davis, also colored, living at No. 725 Princeton street, were ar-rested about 6 o'clock in a room, together. Under the provisions of the law, if a single man and a married woman live as man and wife, it is a crime for both, dif-fering from the old laws that made it a crime only for the woman. Mills was the single man in this case, the woman being the married. It is very probable that this case will be immediately followed by a great many others, as the police say that there are avast number of colored people and the poorer classes of whites, who are living topoorer classes of whites, who are aving to-gether in violation of the law. The penalty is a term in the penitentiary, varying in length from two to five years. Policemen Creagh and Wiggans, who made the arrests, will have the defendants before Judge Miller Monday for a pre-liminary hearing.

liminary hearing. MR, MANDERSON'S ARGUMENT.

Sugar Bonnty Case Considered To-day by Secretary Carlisle, Under the agreement made Friday with Secretary Carlisle, ex-Senator Manderson appeared before the Secretary yesterday afternoon and argued the sugar bounty case.

Mr. Manderson submitted a printed brief covering in detail the points to which he referred but briefly in his oral argument.

Stripped of itslegal verbiage Mr. Manderson's argument is that the law passed by Congress providing for the payment of the bounty is later than the Dockery law imposing alleged superior powers on the Comptroller of the Tressury; that it is a special act, and more binding in its effect than laws grauting authority general in character. He ignored the act of the Comptroller in sending the case to the court of troller in sending the case to the court of claims on the ground that having no juris-diction, his act must, perforce, be illegal and totally void.

His second point, upon which he laid great stress, was the absence of authority vested even in the Secretary to send the claimants to the court of claims.

The weather was fine and the streets were crowded with sight-seers. A feature of the parade was a number of floats of unique design.

UNITY CLUB NOT UNITED

Split into Two Parts Over the Election of Officers.

One Body Styles Itself the "Origin nal"-Charges Against the President, D. C. Haywood.

The Unity Club, a well known social and literary organization, has split. It is divided into two factions, one of which charges that the recently elected president, D. C. Haywood, employed unfair means to procure the honor. Adherents of this side have added the word "original"

of the alleged "originals."

The Original Unity Club held a meeting at the Litchfield on Thursday evening.

It was stated that in view of the fact

It was stated that in view of the fact that there had been some discussion on the part of a few dissatisfied members as to who was president, a circular letter had been issued, explaining the situation, and calling the members to gether for the first time this season.

The circular wassigned by D. C. Haywood, president, and R. A. Phillips, treasurer, and stated that "the former president of the club, whose terms of office had expired by constitutional limitation, has lately assembled a few disgrunted members and underbled a few diagrantled members and under-taken to hold another election, stating as their reason that we, the undersigned, were not elected by ballot. In this they are his-taken or their memories defective, as the undersigned were elected by ballot.

"If the former president will remember, a motion was made that one member of the club should be instructed to cast a vote by ballot for the whole club. The hour better that the club should be the club. by ballot for the whole club. The hour being late, and this seeming the most desirable and expeditious way, the motion was agreed to and acted on accordingly, unanimously.
"It has been asserted by a few members,
who are indicated, that the undersigned,
D. G. Haywood, employed underhand and unfair means to secure the presidency.
But he solemnly declares, challenging his accusers to produce evidence to the contrary, that he never did anything to his knowledge to influence such election, and knowledge to influence such election, and that no member of his family, nor any personal friend, used any influence for that purpose."

Mr. Haywood, with the object of censair. Haywood, with the object of censing all disunity, tendered his resignation as president. The club were, however, satisfied with their choice, and refused to accept the resignation, and in ratification of their previous action Mr. Haywood was renominated and re-elected in the same manner as he was first elected, by the club instruction Mr. A. Phillips.

manner as he was first elected, by the clab instructing Mr. R. A. Phillips to cast the ballot of the club, unanimously, for Mr.
Haywood as president.
The business meeting was then adjourned, and an excellent programme was rendered by the following. Miss Jenny Haywood sang in her usual charming manner the beautiful song, "Frances," Miss Esputa and Miss Wood, assisted by Madamo
Daly, as accompanist, gave several duets.
Mr. Goldwin S. Patten, a promising amateur, recited several selections. Miss Corine Hay was excellent in her dialect impersonations. Mr. W. M. Barrow also recited and pleased the audience.
The meeting then adjourned until Wednesday, November 20.

YOUNG'S WILL IS VALID.

Scaled Verdice of the Jury Settles the Contest,
The jury in the contest over the will of the late James E. Young, made by his brother, Thomas E. Young, yesterday brought in a sealed verdict sustaining the will. Their answers were that Mr. Young was of sound mind when the will was made, and no undue influence was exerted upon him. The question of fraud was not really involved, though a formal answer was made that no fraud was practiced. A. L. Worthington, in closing the case for Thomas Young, said the will of James E. Young was made at a time when Mr. Young

For months James Young had been practically demented. He couldn't remem-ber whether he had eaten his dinner and would demand a second dinner fifteen minutes after he had finished a hearty meal. He saw the phantom of old Dr. Gray at night; quarreled with his neighbors; shot one in the foot; struck Dr. Cotter over the head with a board; went cotter over the head with a board, went about shooting and striking mian and beast with a vindictiveness that could come only out of a disordered mind.
